In August 2019 photographs from the 'Moving_Me?' project featured in the Tottenham's Trojan Horse Group show at: 'Who Are Ya? Exploring Art, Identity and Football' at TATE Modern, London, UK.

The Trojan Horse exhibition, told the story of the proposed eviction of tenants living on the Love Lane Estate and surrounding local businesses to make way for new luxury flats and walkway, as part of the Tottenham Hotspur stadium £1bn programme.

Here are installation photographs taken by the Moving_Me? team. If you wish to learn more about TATE Exchange scan the QR code.
